

Who do you think is the intended reader for this text? Why do you think that?

Why do you think Matt Dawson chose a different coloured font to show the word, 'camouflage'?

Why do you think the creator, Matt Dawson, decided this was an effective way to present the information he found about the octopus?

What do you think is interesting about the octopus?