

Then Emily used her special crayon to draw a hot air balloon just as the boat plummeted to the bottom of the waterfall beneath her. She then floated into the wide, open sky to join several peculiar looking air ships. After that, she watched as they zoomed about the air chasing an exotic, violet phoenix with nets. Emily's heart sank when they caught and trapped it in an ornate cage so she immediately decided to rescue it from its prison.

Next, she flew to where the bird was being kept then silently sneaked past the guards to steal the cage from under their noses! Then the guards spotted her and gave chase! But, they were only fast to catch up to her just as she released the bird from its confinement. After that, she was thrown into her own cage. Then she realised she had somehow lost her red crayon! What was she going to do? Suddenly, the beautiful bird reappeared and dropped the crayon down to her! Emily jumped for joy! Then, swiftly, she drew a flying carpet and escaped!

After that, Emily and the mysterious bird flew until the bird dropped down and showed her a purple door in the trunk of a tree. Where did it go? Next, she climbed through the small doorway and emerged out of the bin opposite her house! Then, the striking bird flew straight to a boy, who stood in front of them, holding a purple crayon. Emily and the boy, Ben, soon became friends and with their extraordinary crayons then went on another adventure together...

Narrowly escaping certain death, Emily used her special crayon to draw a hot air balloon... just as the boat plummeted to the bottom of the waterfall beneath her. Higher and higher she floated, drifting into the wide, open sky to join several peculiar looking air ships. Intrigued by what was happening, she watched as they soared through the air, chasing an exotic, violet phoenix with nets. Swoosh. Emily's heart sank as they caught and trapped it. Immediately, she decided she must try to rescue it from its prison.

With great determination, she flew to where the bird was being kept and silently sneaked past the guards to steal the cage from under their noses! Unfortunately, several moments later, the guards spotted her and gave chase! However, they failed to stop her releasing the bird from its confinement and she opened the cage door to let it go free. As punishment, she was thrown into her own cage. It was then she realised she had somehow lost her red crayon! What was she going to do? Suddenly, swooping low over her head, the beautiful bird reappeared with something in its beak. The crayon dropped down to her! Emily jumped for joy! Without hesitation, she picked up her crayon drew...a flying carpet and escaped!

For miles, Emily and the mysterious bird flew until the bird dropped down and showed her a purple door in the trunk of a tree. Where did it go? Carefully, she climbed through the small doorway and emerged out of the bin opposite her house! Immediately, the striking bird flew straight to a boy, who stood in front of them, holding a purple crayon. Emily and the boy, Ben, soon became friends and with their extraordinary crayons then went on another adventure together...

Openers

Without warning,

Quickly,

Then,

High in the sky,

Soon,

Alongside the air balloon,

Suddenly,

Helplessly, she looked on as Being brave, she decided to Without being noticed,

Rapidly,

Unfortunately,

After that,

Whilst trapped in the cage,

Luckily,

Key Vocabulary

Nouns

crayon, hot-air balloon, airship, guards, bird, magic carpet, sky, cage

Adverbs of manner

quickly, enthusiastically, curiously, swiftly, rapidly, gracefully, daringly, bravely, unluckily, luckily, joyfully, happily, jubilantly, carefully, suddenly

Adverbs of time

then, next, soon, after that, immediately, without warning, within seconds,

Prepositions

high in the sky, looking from above, in the cage, on the magic carpet, on the trunk of a tree,

Verbs

sailed, floated, waved, stared, gazed, caught, trapped, ensnared, imprisoned, sneaked, crept, plummeted, dropped, escaped, climbed, chased, flew, travelled, decided, released, hurried

Adjectives

exotic, beautiful, mysterious, purple, mauve, violet, striking, tropical, elegant, graceful, amazing, extraordinary